Is there a better way to spend Halloween than by hiking through a graveyard? So, that's what we'll do! Ken Kane will lead a 4.3-mile interpretive hike through two city parks and the Lone Fir Pioneer Cemetery. Along the way, we'll learn about some of Portland's earliest settlers: the good, the bad and the ugly! More details of the hike can be found at http://www.woodbloom.com/kenaud/lone_fir_hike.pdf.

The hike leaves at 9:30am from the corner of SE 17th and Taylor. Park on the street and meet at the big rock near the northeast corner.

Oct. 19—21 Nesika Work Party

This will be the last work trip of the year. We have got a lot done. We will continue to clear a 100 foot area around the lodge for a fire break. We still need chain saws. Hazard trees are being taken down around men's dorm and main lodge. Generator to main lodge electric system is complete. We still need to get power to the water tank pump. The replacement 1500 gallon tank is in. We will continue to build tent platforms on the women's dorm pad. We will finish the roof repair on the generator shack. We are still waiting for the generator repair to be completed. We'll have the gate open Friday morning at 9 AM, 6 PM, Saturday morning at 9 AM and 6 PM, Sunday at noon. To register call Glen or Linda Conrad, 360-937-3787, email at nesika@trailsclub.org or sign up on TCO Meet-Up.

Annual TCO Backpack Seminar: Nov 2nd-4th Tye Lodge

Come to Tye for the weekend to learn how to reduce your pack weight. Check out the newest light weight hiking gear. Speaker will be Matthew Odie Norman. He has worked on AT. He is currently finishing his PCT hike in WA. He says he has a great inspirational talk and will discuss gear. Have a good prospect. Trish will give a class on GPS navigation. Six Moon Designs will display their newest light weight tents and backpacks, and much more. There is tenting outside and we have 40 bunk beds. Cost for the weekend is $50. We will have a membership hike on Sunday morning.

Meetup Website

The Trails Club Meetup site allows event planners to organize TCO events online. While we try to get every event in the Blazer and on the Trails Club web site (www.trailsclub.org), some events, especially those planned on short notice, may appear only on the TCO Meetup site at: <https://www.meetup.com/Trails-Club-of-Oregon/events/> Ed.

October Historian Report

With fall upon us, I wanted to update you on this summer's progress to preserve Trails Club history and provide short as well as long-term access to our collections. Our greatest concern this year was the perception that our strategic plan, adopted by the 2016 Board, included digitizing and shredding. Shredding is not part of our archiving procedures. Our greatest responsibility is to preserve and index.

Currently, Celine is scanning our Tyee sign-in registers and Jessie Tucker, Jane Olsen and I are working to preserve two large collections. When indexed, the photos will add an amazing visual dimension to our narrative timeline. An inventory of these collections became much easier when a tenant donated small metal shelf. Marie Deuell's Collection includes 28 albums, Dottie Blattner's 21. Most of the albums are unique in design and a large percentage have magnetic pages. A bonus, a third of the albums contain journals. Once we've processed the last 21 fragile albums, the next step is indexing.

An Interesting fact: from 1996-2006, some 71 members and a few member guests, participated in Senior Outings held in Canada and the United States. Different than Alpine Outings, participants combined environmental learning with an outdoor experience.

Projects completed this summer include the following. Celine Stroinski scanned all our Pacific Crest Trail Mileage records. Susan Keller and her college aged granddaughter scanned more than 40 early lodge reports. Jessie Tucker wrote summaries of the reports describing road improvement to our Nesika access. Barb Jones typed Jessie's work.

In early August, the history committee brainstormed ways to contribute to overall membership goals and increase access to our collections. Hosting a Labor Day Weekend at Tyee brought the most enthusiasm. More than 30 members and guests, ages 3 to those well over retirement age, participated in the event as over night or day guests. The weekend kicked off on Saturday with a membership hike. Cooks prepared amazing meals. In between, sunshine and fresh mountain air encouraged some to initiate impromptu hikes, hunt for huckleberries, or spend time near the creek. A cozy lodge beckoned others to read, visit, play games, color and piece together puzzles. The event wrapped up Monday with eight TCO members attending a free music festival at Timberline Lodge. Several stayed an extra night.

Tyee fireside highlight: Tyee Trustee Aaron Bech perused a three-ring binder donated by the History Committee. The cover has a photo of our million-dollar view of the Gorge, extracted from a centennial power point display of club history prepared by member Bill Sullivan. Contents of the binder includes the photos from the display, tagged with brief captions, and John Hook's story, which fully documents the building of Tyee. The largest section is membership data, extracted from our application collection by former Membership Trustee Vicki Wood.

In creating a centennial list of members, Ms. Wood discovered she was related to a charter member. Also, the project achieved a long-time goal of former Membership Trustee Dottie Blattner.

As for long-term storage, in my role as the Board appointed liaison with the Crown Point Country Historical Society (CPCS), I am working to develop a strong, long-term partnership. In June, I coordinated a table of eight for their museum fundraising tea, featuring a glass slide show of "Magic Moments in the Gorge." Trails Club members in attendance: Phil and Irene Crosby; Fendall Winston; George & Sylvia Milne with granddaughter Brooke Milne; and guests Maureen O'Rourke and Jeff Repp.

The end of August I met with Sandy Cartisser, a member of the CPCS Board of Directors, to give her a hands-on tour of our archive in Oak Grove. She became caught up in exploring our growing research section, something CPCS would like to incorporate into their museum. Excited by our upcoming contribution, Ms. Cartisser is committed to working with us to secure and promote the Trails Club's long-established history in the Gorge. In October, we will meet up again, this time with another partner.

The summer has a chance to share our archives with numerous members/guests. Besides Ms. Cartisser, Jerry Reneau arrived with wife Patty on a special Tri Met bus, greeted by the Matthew Milne family. Kelly Marlin brought with her Don Nelsen, who donated an early photo of himself standing next to the last tower on Larch Mountain.

Respectfully Submitted,
Sylvia Milne, TCO Historian

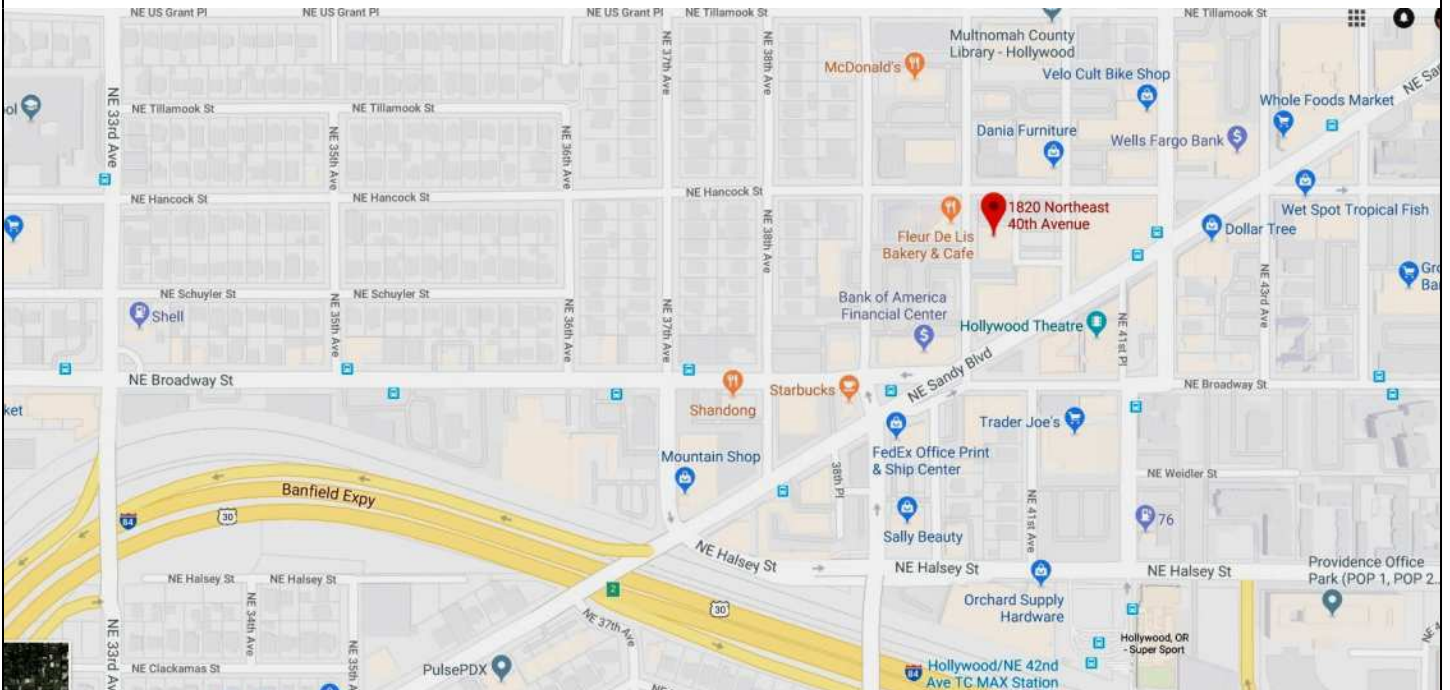

Annual Meeting Notice

Members are encouraged to attend the Trails Club of Oregon Annual Member Meeting on Sunday November 11th, 2018 at 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Hollywood Senior Center. This centrally-located hall seats up to 200, is equipped with kitchen facilities and is ADA accessible. The address is 1820 NE 40th Ave, Portland OR. Parking is in the surrounding neighborhood or in the nearby library parking lot. See the map below.

We will start by enjoying a treat or two together with social time. Water, coffee, tea and juice will be provided. We will then focus on reviewing the budget, voting in new board members and addressing important club business. Please come and ensure that your voice as a member is heard.

Bring a treat you would enjoy sharing with others. Show up a half hour early if you would like to help set up or please stay to clean up if you can. Please call or email Susan Ashenfelter, socialchair@trailsclub.org with questions or suggestions.

Conservation note for October

Every Trails Club member has had the good fortune to hike or camp or climb or swim/raft/canoe/kayak in one of the most beautiful places on Earth, the Pacific Northwest. Many of the places we enjoy remain vulnerable, or have newly become vulnerable. Each month we will have a note featuring one or two organizations working to protect our natural places, and ways to support them, or a note about conservation actions in one of these special places. We hope every Trails Club member will choose to participate in some conservation effort or activity that matches your time available and your interests. As climate change progresses, it is ever more urgent to "Love it (and fight to protect it) or Lose it!"

Oregon (Keep It) Wild - This month we are featuring Oregon Wild, one of the oldest, and most broad-reaching, of Oregon-based conservation groups. Since its founding as Oregon Wilderness Coalition in 1974, then as Oregon Natural Resource Council, and now as Oregon Wild, Oregon Wild has worked to protect Oregon's wildlands, wildlife, and waters, and to defend Oregon's public lands. Oregon Wild has played a major role in securing greater Federal wilderness protection for 1.7 million acres in Oregon, from Kalmiopsis in the Southwest, to Hell's Canyon in the Northeast. Oregon Wild is a vigilant watchdog over our public lands, taking action against threats, such as the sale of the Elliot State Forest, working collaboratively whenever possible, and going to court when necessary. Oregon Wild also offers frequent hikes, and regularly offers educational events.

How can you join Oregon Wild's efforts to protect our wild lands?

Sign up for Oregon Wild action alerts to keep you aware of ongoing threats and how to write or petition.

Join Wild Ones, Oregon Wild's advocacy training program and learn how to be an effective advocate for the lands you love.

Check out Oregon Wild's website, <https://oregonwild.org>, for other ways to become involved in their work.

Next month:

Bark: Protector of Mt Hood National Forest

Thank you for caring about our wild and wonderful state!

Your Conservation Committee Chair

Left: The prototype tent platform for Nesika, which will be replicated many times.
 Right: The new 1500 gal. water tank on the journey to its new home.

Labor Day Fun at Tye

Labor Day was great and well attended. Some times were spent indoors assembling one of the many jigsaw puzzles and games that serve as diversions during inclement weather - or just serve. Huckleberries were picked and forts were built also. Right - Jeff Hopp assists Colin and Annika, children of Aaron Bech and Kaarin Eckstrom. Below - Colin and Brooke gathering huckleberries, And then, Colin in his fort.

BOOs In the Night - Well, daytime, actually.

On 31 Oct. the Wed. AM hike will include visits to a number of cemeteries.

The Asa Lovejoy headstone reads:

"He endured the adventures of the plains and mountains and here — beside the Willamette chose and wisely developed the site of the greatest city of the Columbia valley, afterward holding many offices of public trust and passing with the esteem of all"

"Erected by his friends 1943"

October 2018

Gentle Reminders

For activities such as bicycle, snowshoe, and x-c skiing check with the leaders for the difficulty level of the activity. Good equipment for the specific activity is required for all events. For hikes and snowshoe activities:

Class A—Shorter, less strenuous activity, typically 4 to 8 miles, less than 1500 feet elevation gain.

Class B—Moderate to difficult, typically 6 to 12 miles, up to 3000 feet of elevation gain.

Class C—Long and difficult, strong experienced participants only, typically over 8 miles, and over 3000 feet of elevation gain. Boots are recommended for B/C hikes.

Note: Harsh or unusual conditions may greatly increase the exertion and skill required. Be prepared for the level of activity you are planning to take. Contact the leader if you have any questions about the trip and to let him or her know that you will be attending. Bring plenty of water and a sack lunch. Please, no alcohol. Remember to bring your Ten Essentials. Pets allowed on designated trips only.

Everybody should stay with the group and follow the leader. The leader is responsible for the group's safety. The leader determines which route is taken. The leader has authority to determine if a participant is prepared for the activity. Group safety must come first.

Be prepared to pay a small fee of $2 for Guests, $1 for Members for day activities. Please contribute to any carpooling expenses at the rate of $.15 per mile. With multiple riders the driver can collect up to $.30 per mile shared by all the riders.

If you have reserved for an activity at a lodge involving food expense and are unable to participate you are obligated to do one of the following: cancel before the food is purchased, find someone to take your place, or pay for your share of the food.

All activities must be approved by the appropriate activity Coordinator or the Trips Trustee.
